Essay on Anti-Ragging.

Ragging is a harmful practice commonly found in educational institutions, where senior students harass or bully their juniors in the name of fun or tradition. What may seem like a joke often turns into mental or physical torture, leading to fear, depression and in some cases even tragic incidents. To put an end to such cruelty, the concept of Anti-Ragging was introduced.

Anti-Ragging refers to strict rules, laws and campaigns that prevent students from indulging in ragging. The Supreme Court of India and the university grants commission (UGC) have taken strong steps to make educational campuses ragging-free. Any student found guilty of ragging can face suspension, rustication or even legal punishment.

The purpose of anti-ragging is to create a safe, friendly, and respectful environment for learning. New students should feel welcomed, not threatened. Colleges now conduct orientation programs, counseling sessions and awareness drives to spread the message that ragging is a punishable offense.

In conclusion, ragging is not a tradition to be followed but a crime to be stopped. Every student must take responsibility to ensure that their institution remains safe and welcoming. Anti-ragging is not just a law but also a step towards building a culture of respect, equality and humanity in education.

Essay on Anti Ragging

Ragging is a social evil that has been haunting educational institutions for decades. It refers to any form of harassment, humiliation or abuse, whether physical or mental, inflicted by Senior Students upon juniors. What may sometimes begin as a so called "introduction" often turns into acts of cruelty that cause deep trauma & fear in victims.

Recognizing its harmful consequences, society, law, & educational institutions have united to stand firmly against ragging through strong anti ragging measures.

The Need to Stop Ragging

Ragging affects not only the dignity of students but also their right to learn in a safe & respectful environment. Many cases have shown that victims of ragging suffer from psychological stress, depression & even drop out of college due to unbearable harassment. Some extreme cases have sadly led to loss of life. Such incidents highlight the urgent need for strict anti-ragging laws & awareness.

Anti-Ragging laws & Measures :-

In India, the Supreme Court has declared ragging as a criminal offense. The University Grants Commission (UGC) & other regulatory bodies have issued guidelines making it mandatory for institutions to set up anti-ragging committees & helplines. Students found guilty of ragging can face severe punishments including suspension, expulsion & even imprisonment. These strict measures serve as a strong deterrent.

Role of Students & Society.

While laws are important, the real change begins with students themselves. Senior students must understand that true bonding with juniors comes from respect, guidance, & friendship - not from fear & humiliation. Parents & teachers also play a vital role in sensitizing youth about the dangers of ragging.

Conclusion :-

Anti-ragging is not just a law, it is a movement to protect dignity, humanity, & brotherhood among students. Educational institutions should be places of learning, growth & mutual respect, not arenas of fear.

Anti-Ragging

Ragging is an act of harassment, bullying or teasing of new students by seniors in schools colleges and hostels. It is often disguised as fun or tradition, but in reality it causes fear and humiliation. Ragging can take many forms such as verbal abuse forcing juniors to perform silly or embarrassing acts, insulting them in front of others or even physically hurting them in front of others or etc.

The effects of ragging are very harmful. Students who are victims often lose confidence and self-respect. They start to feel nervous, anxious & depressed. Their concentration on studies is disturbed and some even quit their education due to constant pressure. Many students isolate themselves out of fear of facing ragging. In the worst cases, there have been tragic incidents where students unable to tolerate humiliation have harmed themselves. This proves that ragging is not fun but a dangerous act that destroys lives and careers.

To control this evil practice, strict laws have been made in India. The Supreme Court has declared ragging a criminal offence. If a student is found guilty of ragging they can be ~~expelled~~ suspended, mutilated or even jailed ~~depending~~ on the seriousness of the act.

The University Grants Commission (UGC) has also issued clear regulations to prevent ragging in colleges. Every institution must form an anti-ragging committee, a monitoring squad and provide facilities for students to report complaints.

Essay On Anti Ragging

Anti Ragging refers to policies, measures & initiative taken to prevent & combat the practice of ragging. Ragging is a form of harassment, abuse or hazing that occurs in educational institutions, especially in colleges & universities. It involves senior or older student subjecting new or junior students to various form of physical, psychological or emotional abuse, often under the guise of initiation rituals.

Anti Ragging measures are implemented to ensure the safety, well-being & dignity of students. Such measures aim to create a safe and respectful environment within educational institutions. These measures are extremely important as not only do they affect the students present state of mind but sometimes the student is affected by ragging throughout his lifetime & is never able to come out of this & is scared of the situation recurring at different places & times.

This also affects the parents of the students as they are worried about the mental situation of their child & so take them to various doctors to get them cured. So ragging not affects the child but the entire family.

So, therefore, the goal of anti ragging efforts is to create a safe & supportive environment where students can focus on their studies & personal growth without fear of harassment or abuse.

→ Punishment for participation in/ or abetment of Ragging :-

- * Cancellation of admission.
- * Withholding of other benefits.
- * Suspension from attending classes.
- * Debarring from appearing in any test or other evaluation process.
- * Withholding results.
- * Suspension from the hostel.
- * Rustication from the institution for periods varying from 1 to 4 sem.
- * Fine up to ₹25000/-
